I purchased this kit about ten years ago and love the beautiful fabric with the Gentleman's Bow Tie pattern. I used a Quilt In A Day template that can be used for vines, scallops, and waves for the border.

Bought this pattern in Golden, CO, while visiting Colorado School of Mines where my granddaughter will begin studying Environmental Engineering this fall. There is a wonderful quilt shop there and I hope to visit a couple of times a year! Quilt is called Gnomes in the Mushrooms.

Here is my Alice In Wonderland mini quilt. It's a 16"x16" wall hanging. I had fun with some raw edge applique and also free motion quilting on this swap piece.

The little purse and wallets were fun to make for our first visit back to our happy place, Disneyland!

Two more Hawaiian mini quilts. The blue one is done using two fabric applique from Pacific Rim Quilt Company.

This is my entry in the Modern Quilt Guild's Make a Difference Challenge. The theme of the challenge is trees. This quilt is called Gravity and was inspired by the story of Sir Isaac Newton's study of gravity after he observed apples falling from a tree.
